DESCRIPTION AND COURSE GOALS

The GER 100Y1Y language course is an introductory German course divided into two sections for students with no prior knowledge of the language. Based on a communicative and task-based approach, it is designed to develop proficiency in oral and written communication skills while providing students with knowledge and understanding of the societies and cultures of German-speaking countries.

Students will develop their listening, speaking, reading and writing skills through a variety of stimulating activities. Vocabulary will be presented in the context of culturally significant issues.

Topics cover areas such as introducing and talking about oneself, shopping, telling time and recounting a day, family life, describing and renting an apartment, travel, health and fitness or studying abroad. Additionally, the course will provide students with a foundation in a number of basic grammatical structures and concepts.

Class periods will be devoted mostly to communicative and interactive exercises. In addition to preparation at home, regular class attendance is paramount in order to participate successfully in these activities.

CLASS FORMAT

This class will be entirely conducted in German, and it is expected that you will speak in German during class time from the beginning until the end of class. You will see progress swiftly if you concentrate on speaking German in class all the time. Your instructor will use many partner- and group activities, which are to be completed entirely in German. Don't be afraid to make mistakes! They are part of the learning process. Note that you will not be graded on error-free speech, but on your continuous efforts to speak in German! This course will provide you with a welcoming, respectful, and fast-paced environment for learning German during this academic year.

HOMEWORK & VIDEO ASSIGNMENTS

Homework

You can expect to spend 4 to 5 hours on homework every week. You will be assigned homework from the textbook and online workbook. The online exercises will provide you with ample opportunities before and after class to practice the materials covered. Doing them regularly and carefully will help you prepare for quizzes and tests. No late homework will be accepted without a legitimate excuse. Advice: In order to have a meaningful learning experience, it is important to do the homework assignments on a daily basis, rather than all at once at the end of the week.

Video Assignments:

As part of your homework, you will make 4 videos and participate in online discussions about them on Quercus. The purpose of this interactive exercise is to allow you to practice speaking and writing and to foster collaborative learning. Prompts will be posted under "Video Assignments." The videos will make up 4% of your overall homework grade. The assignments will be graded for their required length, punctual completion, and comprehensibility. Further information and instructions will be provided by your instructor.

TESTS

Five tests (3 in the fall term; 2 in the winter term) will be given during the year, covering vocabulary, grammar and readings from the course. No make-up quizzes or tests are allowed unless the student has an excused absence. An excused absence is defined as one that has been validated in writing by a physician, surgeon, nurse practitioner, dentist, and clinical psychologist, or a person of authority, e.g. college registrar. If you should fall ill on the day of the test, please send an e-mail before class. A make-up quiz or test must be written no later than a week after the actual assessment date.

ORAL EXAM

At the end of each term, students will have an oral exam in the form of interviews in pairs with the course instructor. Sufficient class time will be devoted to prepare for this exam which will be graded for general ability to hold a short conversation, competence and fluency in everyday situations as well the use of acquired grammar and vocabulary. Exact times will be arranged with the course instructor.

COMPOSITION

You will write four (4) compositions altogether (2 in the fall term, 2 in the winter term). The topic and length of the composition will be indicated by your course instructor. Each composition consists of a draft and a final version. Three out of the four drafts will be written in class. In order to receive the full grade you must turn in the 2 versions of each composition. Your instructor will return the first version with corrective annotations. You will write the final version of your composition based on these corrections. This is a very important reflective exercise to develop your writing skills and to understand the source of your mistakes. The first version will count 60% and the second 40%. To receive a complete score for each composition assignment, you must submit the marked-up draft with the final version.

Do not have your essays proofread by someone else who is proficient in German! This can be considered plagiarism, as you are submitting someone else's work as your own. Do not use translation software or online translation tools such as Google translate! It will not only be considered cheating, but you will miss a chance to reflect upon and improve your writing skills. The purpose of the composition is to show your ability to use the vocabulary and grammar learned in class in accordance with your level of German.

PARTICIPATION AT GERMAN EVENTS

2% of your participation grade will be earned through your participation at German events either hosted by the German Department, the Goethe-Institut Toronto, or other German-language related events around the city (e.g. Kaffeestunde, scholarly talks related to German Studies, German-language film screenings, cultural events sponsored by the Goethe-Institut or the German Consulate, German-language operas/plays/Liederabend). In order to earn the full 2%, you will need to attend a minimum of two events over the course of two semesters and provide proof of your attendance, be it by having a supervising faculty member or organizer sign a ticket stub or presenting an event program (alternative documentation options must be discussed with and approved by your instructor), and submit a written reaction to the event in 100 words within one week of attending the event.

ATTENDANCE

The Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures allows each student a maximum of four unexcused absences (i.e. four hours) per semester. For each subsequent unexcused absence, a student will incur a 15% penalty off the class participation and attendance grade of the course. An excused absence is defined as one that has been validated in writing by a physician, surgeon, nurse practitioner, dentist, and clinical psychologist, or a person of authority, e.g. college registrar. Absenteeism inherently has indirect bearing upon all other aspects of the grade weighting. Test material and homework assignments are based on tasks, activities, and information integrated into class time instruction.

INAPPROPRIATE USE OF MOBILE DEVICES/COMPUTERS

Laptops, phones or similar mobile devices must be off during class time! Mobile phones and laptops can be used during class only with the explicit permission of the instructor. No texting is allowed. In case of repeated texting despite warnings from the instructor, the student's participation grade will be lowered automatically by 10%!

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY STATEMENT

Academic integrity is defined as the pursuit of scholarly activity in an open, honest and responsible manner. All students should act with personal integrity, respect other students' dignity, rights and property, and help create and maintain an environment in which all can succeed through the fruits of their efforts. Dishonesty of any kind will not be tolerated in this course. Dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarizing, fabricating information or citations, facilitating acts of academic dishonesty by others, having unauthorized possession of examinations, submitting work of another person or work previously used without informing the instructor, using online translators, or tampering with the academic work of other students. Students who are found to be dishonest will receive academic sanctions and will be reported to the University's Judicial Affairs office for possible further disciplinary sanction. Please visit <http://www.governingcouncil.utoronto.ca/policies/behaveac.htm> for additional information on the code of behavior on academic matters.

DISABILITY ACCESS

The department encourages qualified people with disabilities to participate in its programs and activities and is committed to the policy that all people shall have equal access to programs, facilities, and admissions without regard to personal characteristics not related to ability, performance, or qualifications as determined by university policy or by provincial or federal authorities. If you anticipate needing any type of accommodation in this course or have questions about physical access, the classrooms as well as course materials, please contact Accessibility Services and visit <http://studentlife.utoronto.ca/accessibility> or disability.services@utoronto.ca as soon as possible.
